

*“Rossofonte”
impressively bridges
the gap between Rosso di Montalcino
and Brunello.*

This very limited bottling offers fruity aromas of ripe berries with balsamic notes on the nose, plus some brown spices, tobacco and wet stone.

Overall, a multi-layered potpourri full of harmony flows from the glass. On the palate, it is very balanced, velvety-soft and the cooling acidity caresses the dark berries. Finishes rounded with dried citrus fruits and a hint of mocha.
